A little of the Costa Natura history

At the end of the Franco era Spain gave up its prudish attitudes to naturism and being naked and gave approval for the Naturist Holiday Village Resort Costa Natura in Estepona. The original plan by the French Company Dumez and its subsidiary Naturaleza Costa Del Sol was for 630 apartments with very elaborate facilities. Building started in 1979 with the first sales in 1981 to a range of worldwide naturists and nudists. In 1979 the Costa Natura beach was the first designated naturist beach in Spain and still has its original Royal Decree.

Although the original intentions were to have 630 apartments 200 apartments actually got constructed in beautiful surroundings with 2 Pools, a Restaurant Bar, Kiosk Bar, Social Club, Jacuzzi, Sauna, Petanque Court On the beach front are multiple beautiful lush sunbathing lawns next to a large blue pool (solar heated) and a small child's pool. Owners and guests can while away the hours sunbathing naked in the warm Andalusian sun, drink at the bar or eat a meal at one of the two eating places.

Most of the 200 apartments at Costa Natura are privately owned but are rented out by a Community owned rental company Association Naturista Costa Natura. This allows owners to rent their apartments to other naturists for holidays or vacations. The most popular times are of course the summer but many naturists visitors return year after year for winter sun. Costa Natura now attracts naturists or nudists from over 20 different countries and has real friendly cosmopolitan feel to it. Evening in season there is often entertainment in the restaurant with singing and dancing. Of course outside Costa Natura is a whole world of wonderful restaurants, bars and places to see in Estepona, the town of Estepona is one of the most beautiful towns on the Costa del Sol.
